ENHANCING FINANCIAL INCLUSION IN SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA

Despite showing significant growth in access to financial services in Sub-Saharan Africa, sections of the population still remain underserved. The most affected are rural communities.

THE BIG-Q

Which institutions are championing financial inclusion in Africa, and how?

The EastAfrican newspaper will cover this topic through a special report, and is inviting Banks, Fintechs, Sacco's and Microfinance institutions, among other financial stakeholders, to publicise their innovations towards enhancing financial inclusion across the region.
